01/29/20	Costco Retail Program - China	Cheese	China	Feb 2020 - Aug 2020	USDEC has been collaborating with Costco China on U.S. cheeses promotions since its opening and will continue to do so to educate consumers and build long-term demand. The promotion method including product demos/sampling, end-cap and road-show.	* COVID-19 makes it impossible to conduct demos now, more end-caps are added to make up for that. Demos can be restarted when the epidemic is gone.Exact time TBC. * Costco is working on importing new items. It will be more efficient to hold the roadshow when more cheese selections are available at the store. Due to the control for the epidemic, many roadshows are postponed and for us the new timing will be around October to December. * CDS reached out to us on March 12 and they are interested in the cheese training course and can commit 2hrs for the training to learn basic knowledge of cheese. We're coordinating with CDS to see whether they can accomodate a 4hrs training. * Costco has applied for tariff exemption. * Though Costco has cut several sku of Cascade Dairy (Pacific Cheese), the overall sales for Cascade Dairy actually is better than before. * Currently Costco is not importing fresh mozzarella and ricotta, but may restart in summer time.

Previously, this product was produced in cartons of one packaging size (1 SKU). Beyti company is now importing the following dairy ingredients: - SMP (Medium heat), mainly imported from approved suppliers in Ireland, France, Germany and Fonterra. They used to depend on only two sources Fonterra and Lactalis, but now expanded the number of suppliers; in quantities of 4,000 MT/year. Although Beyti is not currently sourcing from the U.S., Mr. Elsamny mentioned that they are interested in resuming imports of U.S. dairy ingredients. Beyti are seeking to qualify new sources from the U.S. Mr. El Samny visited USDEC booths and met with several U.S. dairy suppliers. He took 1 Kg sample of medium heat SMP from DFA Ingredients to conduct some product trials inside their processing facility in Egypt. The company is also looking to expand their line of products; and are considering the reformulation of their existing whipping/cooking cream product. The main aim is to decrease the total fat content in this product to compete with other products available in the Egyptian market. - Sweet whey	The company is always seeking product development and innovations for applications of U.S. dairy ingredients.	Iffco, Sales, SMP, 300 MT worth $701,100 Modern Dairy Trade, Sales, U.S. whey permeate, 40 MT worth $32,000 Wafir International Group, Sales,

					Nina Bakht Halal, Director Middle East, Angelique Hollister, Executive Director, USA Cheese Guild and Antonio El Khoury, Director of Culinary Programs - MENA visited ICCA Dubai on Wednesday, February 19. They met with Sunjeh and Shanaaz at ICCA and discussed the flow and content of the current U.S. Specialty Cheese courses being led and executed by Chef Antonio. The courses are being received by students with enthusiasm and the desire to go to the next level to attain the top certification of U.S. Cheese Specialists. Discussions also included on how USDEC can reach Executive Chefs to include them in the Cheese Guild and increase awareness and attributes of high end U.S. cheeses. It was determined that the best way to do this is for Chef Antonio to do some short of presentations and demos in selected foodservice establishments; this is because Executive Chefs have limited time and will be unable to come to ICCA to attend full one or two day course. Also, such chefs will not sit through the basic type of information, therefore Chef Antonio can just convey the top end information those chefs would be interested in and to let them know where these cheeses are available and from where they can be procured. Those sessions would also include application ideas for U.S. cheeses. Further, a good way to reach the top chefs would be by	- Increase reputation and awareness of U.S. cheeses in the food service sector by educating junior/up-and-coming chefs training and working in the GCC region. -

More investigation and research is needed to determine cost and how USDEC can participate in such activities and events. The idea is good to consider because it will have a global focus and positioning. There were discussions on the ICCA Jeddah operation which seem to have been stalled for some time. After some initial hurdles, ICCA has now partnered with the Saudi royal family to open soon. They will be opening five different operations; one of them will be in Bahrain because students from the area (Dammam) would easily cross the causeway (that links KSA to Bahrain). They will open branches in Jeddah, Riyadh and Mekka. ICCA also established a culinary school in Bahrain known as Colina. Also, discussions on sponsoring competitions was raised. Furthermore, it was explained that top chefs are not inside the Emirates Culinary Guild, and these chefs should be reached in some other partnerships.. Date of graduation of ICCA students: Shanaaz mentioned that it is still too early to determine but will be towards end of the year (November).
